

United States Labels Red China As Outlaw Nation

Soviet Union Counters In U. N. Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The United States denounced Communist China Monday as an outlaw nation with a record so evil its admission would debase the United Nations.

The Soviet Union charged that by making such accusations the United States was trying to drag the U. N. back into the worst days of the cold war.

The sharp exchange occurred in the U. N. General Assembly, where a former U. S. assistant secretary of state, Walter Robertson, gave his country's answer to the declaration by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev here on Friday that it was high time for the U. N. to admit Communist China and kick out the Chinese Nationalists.

Robertson accused the Chinese Reds of inflicting mass murder and slavery on its own people. He urged support of a U. S. proposal that the Assembly shelve for another year the Red China membership issue.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The U. S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals upheld Arkansas' pupil placement laws Monday in a decision hailed as paving the way toward a peaceful and orderly transition to public school integration.

Railroads Propose Cut In Wages

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's railroads have countered employee demands for 750 million dollars in pay raises with a wage cut proposal which would top nearly a billion dollars from the industry's payrolls.

The carriers conference committees on Monday followed up a 15-cent-an-hour wage cut proposal made to operating employees' unions last spring with a similar suggestion to 11 nonoperating unions which represent 550,000 workers.

The railroad's move came as executives of the nonoperating unions met in San Francisco to discuss bargaining plans.

Ted Short, chairman of the Western Carriers' Conference Committee, one of three groups which handle wage negotiations for the railroads, said the 15 per cent wage cut would put nonoperating rail employees' straight-time wage level into the 1953 relationship with that of workers in other industries.

He said the proposed cut amounts to the gains by railroad workers in excess of other industrial workers since 1953.

No figures on current overall railroad wages are available, but the payroll is estimated at more than six billion dollars a year. Short said the average straight-time wage in the railroad industry increased 31 per cent since 1953, compared with a 7 per cent upswing in the U. S. department of labor cost-of-living index.

Wages for more than 1,200,000 railroad employees in 1953 were reported as about $3,381,000,000. The number of railroad workers has been cut drastically since that time, with 1,058,000 workers reported in 1956.

Short said average straight-time pay for nonoperating railroad employees was $2.37 in July this year compared with $2.16 for workers in manufacturing industries.

President Signs Gas Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The gas tax bill was one of 96 signed by the President Monday. He still has 56 measures, including foreign aid, housing, civil rights and an increase in savings bond interest on his desk. They must be acted on by midnight, Sept. 29, or they are automatically rejected.

In a statement on the gasoline tax, Eisenhower said the bill will not meet his objective of keeping the vast highway building program on schedule on a pay-as-you-build basis. But he signed it.

GSA Plan Submitted To House

HARRISBURG (AP) — An administration plan to raise the borrowing capacity of the General State Authority to finance nearly 106 million dollars in construction projects was submitted to the House Monday night.

The projects were recommended to the Legislature by Gov. Lawrence when he submitted his biennial capital budget Aug. 31.

The measure would raise the GSA's borrowing ceiling of 480 million dollars to 585 million dollars. A companion bill would raise the ceiling $27,700,000 to finance improvements and new buildings at Pennsylvania State, Temple and Lincoln Universities and the Universities of Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh, as recommended by the governor.

Reps. Stephen McCann, Democratic floor leader, and Chairman J. Dean Polen (D-Washington) of the Appropriations Committee, sponsored the bills.

The administration requests face an uncertain future. Sen. George B. Stevenson R-Clinton, a member of the State Planning Board which drew up the 106 million dollar program, suggested that new GSA-financed projects be limited to 30 million dollars.

But McCann fixed a timetable to pass two measures next week. They will require amendment, meanwhile, to correct technical errors.

Other legislative developments: Appropriations — Senate Republicans tackled anew their announced objective to chop Gov. Lawrence's proposed $1,870,000,000 budget by 40 to 60 million dollars. No progress was announced.

Highway Safety-Lawrence announced he would veto a Senate measure to introduce the point system for penalizing traffic violators if it remains in its present form.

Mass Transit-The Senate Monday night approved, 29-21, a plan which sponsors claim would solve Allegheny County's transit problems.

It would give the Allegheny County's transit problems.

U. S. Recalls Red Expert From Manila

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen, long a first-rank U. S. diplomatic expert on the Soviet Union, is being recalled from Manila to a top Washington job dealing with Soviet affairs.

The State Department announced Monday that Bohlen will return from the Philippines, where he has been ambassador since May 9, 1957, sometime before the end of October. He will assume new duties as a special assistant to Secretary Christian A. Herter.

The new assignment was made over opposition from Sen. Styles Bridges (NH), the Senate GOP policy committee chairman, and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (Ill), Senate Republican leader. They had protested Bohlen's part in the World War I Yalta conference. Bohlen's new job does not require Senate approval.

Timetable

The timetable for Bohlen's return left the way open for him to accompany President Eisenhower to the Soviet Union this fall. Eisenhower has made known his high regard for Bohlen's understanding of the Soviet mind.

State Department press officer Lincoln White declined comment on whether Bohlen would make the trip and on who would succeed him at Manila.

For the 55-year-old Bohlen, the new post marks a return to a specialty to which he has devoted much of his 30 years as a career foreign service officer.

He has spent nine years in the Soviet Union, on and off, since 1934. Eisenhower appointed him as ambassador to Moscow March 27, 1953, shortly after the Republicans came into power.

Bohlen's appointment at the time was fought by several GOP senators including the late Joseph R. McCarthy (Wis). They didn't like his defense of the Yalta agreements, negotiated between President Franklin D. Roosevelt, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Soviet dictator Joseph Stalin.

Bohlen, who served as chief U. S. interpreter at Yalta, contended the fault lay in Soviet violations of the Yalta accords rather than in the agreements themselves. This clashed with charges made by 1952 GOP campaigners. But the Senate went on to confirm him by a 74-13 vote.

Soviet Press Featuring Disneyland

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet press reported Monday its charges that people opposed to Premier Nikita Khrushchev's U. S. tour are doing their utmost to isolate him from ordinary Americans.

Following the Premier's report that he was asked to cancel his trip to Disneyland because his safety could not be guaranteed, Tass, Pravda, Izvestia and Komsomol Pravda sent correspondents there.

Official Agency

Said Tass the official news agency: "The impression is that those who from the very outset were against N. S. Khrushchev's visit to the United States are even now doing their best to prevent N. S. Khrushchev from meeting plain American citizens in a calm, friendly atmosphere."

Soviet correspondents said at Disneyland those interviewed were guard Richard Corn, publicity executive George Derby and assistant publicity manager Edwin Ettlinger.

location of funds. The President's statement was viewed as a hint that he might freeze some of the NIH funds, as he had done in fiscal 1958.

Mrs. Khru On Tour Of Shopping

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Nina Khrushcheva slipped off on her own Monday for a shopping tour and visit to a typical American public school.

Eluding reporters after a harbor tour with her husband, Mrs. Khrushcheva along with her two step daughters first headed for a Sears Roebuck store.

It was closed until 12:30 p.m. so the Soviet women, along with the official American hostess, Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge, went across the street to the 18-classroom Anza grammar school.

Grooms Children

It was recess and Mrs. Khrushcheva first watched the children at play. As the smaller children trooped back to class, she shook their hands and greeted them.

After inspecting the classrooms, the assistant principal, Barbara Moore, said "Mrs. Khrushcheva exclaimed that we are so rich. She talked of our maps, our books and paper."

Then came the one and one-half-hour visit through Sears. Mainly interested in children's wear, Mrs. Khrushcheva spent about $150 buying items for her grandchildren. She also purchased some nylon hose.

She spent American dollars on some infant car seats, toys and clothing for an expected grandchild.

Crowds Surge In Protest Of Executions

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Radio Damascus said Monday the execution of 13 Iraqi army officers at Baghdad Sunday touched off a demonstration against Premier Abdel Karim Kassem's government.

Huge crowds protested the shootings as a massacre and feelings against the Kassem regime were heated to the point of explosion, it said. Arab nationalists in Baghdad were reported to have kept their shops and business places closed Monday in "mourning over a new group of martyrs."

There was no confirmation in dispatches from Baghdad that the story released through Iraqi censorship was that spectators cheered when firing squads felled the 13 and hanged executed four civilians as enemies of the government.

Radio Damascus is the Syrian voice of the United Arab Republic. The U. A. R. has been feuding with Iraq since Kassem's troops crushed a Nationalist revolt in Mosul last March.

Good Morning!

Be kind to your enemies; remember you made them.

Khrushchev Called Worse Than Stalin

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The AFL-CIO convention adopted unanimously Monday a resolution accusing visiting Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev of being "more truculent and demanding in his aggression than Stalin."

Saying Khrushchev is trying to annex Berlin and then put all Germany behind the Iron Curtain, the resolution continued: "The present Kremlin course toward the problem of German reunification and Berlin is far tougher than the harshest Soviet proposals put forward under Stalin."

It said the threat of Soviet aggression and worldwide Communist subversion stubbornly persists — "despite all the talk about Moscow's 'new look' and Khrushchev's 'peaceful coexistence' drive."

Convention Report

George Meany, federation president, told the convention that despite Khrushchev's smiling pleasantness on his current visit, "We cannot forget that only Saturday in Los Angeles he said, 'The rockets are ready; the launching pads are ready.'"

"That wasn't a smiling, jovial Khrushchev, and what does he mean?" Meany asked.

"This means one hydrogen bomb hitting the city of New York, for instance, and a million people dead within a half hour and two million more condemned to the slow death that comes with these weapons. That particular area the bomb hits is uninhabitable for 10 years."

"A nuclear war is almost unthinkable, but we are dealing with people who perhaps could do and have done the unthinkable, so let's measure them only by deeds and not by slogans."

Meany spoke after Anna Kethly, a leader in the Hungarian uprising crushed by Soviet tanks in 1956, told the assembled union leaders: "What has happened in Hungary may happen to other nations tomorrow."

Soviet Chief Causes Riot At Market

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev finally got to tour an American supermarket late Monday. His visit turned the big grocery into bedlam.

Driving back to San Francisco after a luncheon tour of the International Business Machines Plant in San Jose, the party stopped off at Stonestown, a de luxe shopping center in the southwestern corner of San Francisco.

Children screamed with excitement, and a crowd gathered from every direction as the chunky little Premier and his party walked into the supermarket near the entrance to the shopping center.

Stand On Carts

Spectators attempted to stand on pushcarts, photographers climbed atop shelves of canned goods, and the hubbub was deafening.

Bobby-soxers squealed delightfully, housewives pushed and shoved, knocking down display cases in a scene that resembled a small scale riot.

San Francisco police and State Department security men struggled to hold back the some 1,000 persons who jammed into the fruit and vegetable and the shelved areas.

Khrushchev seemed unconcerned.

Soviet Leader Evades Questions On Strikes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev bounced around the San Francisco area on tour Monday, gaily pulling the unexpected, trading hats with a longshoreman, and offering advice on crime control.

The Soviet Premier's day-long travels, including a harbor boat trip and a journey 60 miles south to the San Jose computer plant of International Business Machines Corp., led up to a civic dinner at which he was the principal speaker.

During his tour, he said the Soviet Union is sharply reducing her secret police and "organs of suppression" as well as shifting naval power from cruisers to submarines and torpedo boats.

The shift-Khrushchev said 90 per cent of the cruisers are being junked—is no surprise. American admirals have been warning for years of the increasing strength of the Soviet submarine fleet.

But, said Khrushchev, "we are now catching herring with our submarines." And that, according to the Soviet minister for cultural exchange, Georgi Zhukov, is no joke. Especially equipped submarines are searching under the surface for fish.

Snaps Reporter

A man with a low boiling point, the Premier snapped at a Soviet newsman who thought he had said the U. S. S. R. is building the world's biggest navy.

"I did not say that," he said. "If I said that it would sound like some sort of threat."

Khrushchev said that in a nation such as the Soviet Union, which has no private property, "You won't have so many criminals."

He had been invited to come at 6 a. m., to watch the assignment of workers to jobs. The invitation was issued by Harry Bridges, president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, and Paul St. Sure, head of the Pacific Maritime Assn., an organization of ship owners.

But by the time Khrushchev showed up, the job assigning was all over and only one man was on hand to say, "We wish you peace."

That didn't daunt the Premier. After the ride around the bay, he came back. This time Bridges and St. Sure were there to greet him and hundreds of persons trailed him on a tour of the union hall in the Fishermen's Wharf area.

Longshoreman Dave Adrian yanked off his white cap and jammed it on Khrushchev's bald head. The Premier promptly handed his own gray felt fedora to Adrian.

"Peace Exchange"

"This is an exchange for peace," he grinned. "Take mine." Never the reluctant orator, Khrushchev made a little speech. "May I call you comrade? He asked the assemblage, 'I want to pay my gratitude for the welcome I have been accorded here.'"

He said his impression is that U. S. workers want peace as much as do those in the Soviet Union. He added, "Peace is not enough. I want there to be work and a good wage."

The Premier still was wearing his newly acquired hat when he drove 60 miles to inspect the IBM plant near San Jose.

He lunched with workers in the cafeteria, and looked at some of the electronic brains that fire back answers to questions even more quickly than he does.

The union chiefs defended the American free enterprise system, Khrushchev upheld the Communist system. The Premier was quoted as summing things up for both sides with a remark that "our positions are irreconcilable."

Walter Reuther, president of the Auto Workers, said he thought Khrushchev felt "we gave him a very bad time," as "we went around and around with him."

The union officials accused Khrushchev of being evasive when they tried to pin him down on a wide range of questions, from disarmament to strikes.

Reuther said Khrushchev banged a fist on the dinner table at one point and pronounced himself the dictator of the working classes who would decide what is good for them.

Khrushchev said Monday it is untrue he made the dictator claim. The labor leaders met and backed down on that. They said something about translations and interpretations that what the Premier said was he was head of the working classes.

Movie Colony Slapped By Khrushchev

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The movie colony, which went all out to entertain Nikita Khrushchev, was dismayed Monday by his slap in the face.

Last Saturday, 20th Century-Fox staged a production number from its new film "Can Can" at an estimated cost of $50,000. The Russian visitor saw a spirited version of the French cafe dance with the usual tossing up of skirts, both forward and backward.

Khrushchev's reaction: "It was immoral. Humanity's face is more beautiful than its backside. Only people who are over-satiated like such things and similar pornography."

Foy Kohler, assistant secretary of state for European affairs, was asked in San Francisco if he thought the dance was typically American.

"Typically Hollywood"

"No, I would say it was typically Hollywood," he said. He added he didn't know if the State Department was embarrassed, "but I was."

Shirley Maclaine, who starred in the strenuous dance wearing a 47-pound costume, was disappointed at the reaction.

"Mr. Khrushchev thanked us and I was under the impression he liked the dance," she said. "It wasn't typically American or typically French. It was typical of Paris in 1895, which is what the picture is about. If they wanted to show him something typically American, they should have taken him to a baseball game."

As hosts, the 20th Century-Fox bosses said they will decline to comment on Khrushchev's blast. They may be disappointed in his reaction, but there can be no doubt the incident made the No. 1 Communist a No. 1 press agent for a capitalist movie.

House Receives Payment Bill

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House Monday night received legislation to allow the State Highways Department to give owners 75 per cent of the cost of land taken over for road purposes pending the outcome of condemnation appeals.

The payment would stop the owner from trying to collect interest on the amount of money coming to him from the department.

Ike Signs Dyberry Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed a bill designating the Dyberry Dam and Reservoir in northern Pennsylvania as the Gen. Edgar Jadwin Dam.

Jadwin, a native of Honesdale, near the site of the dam, headed the Army Corps of Engineers at one time.

Chamber In Support Of Rail Merger

THE POCONO Mountains Chamber of Commerce yesterday endorsed plans of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and Erie Railroads to merge their facilities.

It urged Interstate Commerce Commission approval of the application for merger "as long as the merger does not involve any curtailment of service to this area."

The resolution cited "reliable and efficient rail service" as necessary to the "industrial and economic development of the Stroudsburgs."

It said that the chamber is of the opinion that "such a merger will strengthen the performance and efficiency of rail service, will be of substantial assistance to the industrial economy of this area and will be definitely in the public interest."

Discussion

The resolution was approved after W. Seal Purwell, general agent of the D. L. and W., discussed the merger and the advantages the railroads expect to accrue from it at the chamber's luncheon meeting in the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Spencer Cramer and Gilbert Smrz were named to attend a meeting at the C. I. U. Club Thursday at which a Senior Citizens Club will be organized.

The chamber also endorsed plans of the Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to create a "conservation and nature study center" in the Pocono Mountains. The site has not been selected.

Radio Jammers Back At Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — United States officials said recently that Soviet radio jammers are back on the air.

Hearing To Be Held On Shortway Segment

MILTON — A hearing to determine the economic effect of the communities affected by the location and construction of a 21-mile segment of the Keystone Shortway will be held here Thursday at 10 a.m.

The public hearing was arranged by Highways Secretary Park H. Martin to conform with the provision of the Federal Highway Act of 1956.

The proposed stretch starts 1.4 miles west of White Deer Dam and continues easterly along the north side of White Deer Creek Valley to an intersection with Legislative Route 629, southeasterly to a proposed interchange with United States Route 15, and across the Susquehanna River to a mile north of New Columbia into Northumberland County.

From Turbot Township, it will run southeasterly into Liberty Township, Montour County, crossing Limestone Run for the intersection of Route 254, along the northern boundary of Mooresburg, then east through Valley Township, northerly and approximately parallel with Route 642 to an interchange at Route 54 about a half mile north of Maudselle.

One single bridge and 13 twin bridges will be included in the section. The Susquehanna River crossing will be over twin bridges, 1,650 feet long.

Besides U. S. 15 and Maudselle Interchanges, there will be connections with Routes 14 and 254.

This segment of the Stroudsburg - Sharon superhighway will be the second to be under construction. The first is now nearly complete at Corsica, near Brookville.

A previous hearing was held May 22, 1958 at Tannersville, shortly before work was started on the Stroudsburg Thruway.

While not part of the Shortway, this stretch of limited-access highway is also a phase of Interstate Route 80 extending from New York City, at the George Washington Bridge, west to San Francisco.

Two Phases Of Shortway Near Ready

WILLIAMSPORT — Two phases of Keystone Shortway construction near Corsica, Jefferson County, will be completed next month, according to C. E. Noyes, executive secretary of the Keystone Shortway Assn.

He said an overpass to carry Route 949 over the Shortway on the northern edge of Corsica is expected to be completed Oct. 1, opening Route 949 to traffic.

Scheduled for completion Oct. 15 is the major Route 322 — Shortway interchange west of Corsica. Noyes said this will remove the present temporary routing of Route 322 traffic via New Bethlehem to Clarion.

Contracts for the two biggest items in the 3.13-mile section of the Shortway were awarded last Spring. Since all the grading and drainage work is rapidly nearing completion, the entire job should be ready for paving in the not-too-distant future, Noyes reported.

He also said consulting engineers are about ready to start the final design on a stretch of the Shortway in the Clarion area. Backers of the highway in the Clearfield - DuBois area have petitioned for a hearing on that segment of the proposed Stroudsburg-Sharon route.

Stroud Union PTA Approves Bible Reading

STROUD Union Parent-Teacher Assn. last night unanimously endorsed a continuation of the custom of reading the Bible in the public schools.

The action was taken during a meeting in the high school at which the group also endorsed House Bill 1108, which it said is now at a critical stage.

The bill will allow schools to spend up to $9,000 per teaching unit per year and still receive state reimbursement. At present schools can spend $5,800.

Earl F. Groner, superintendent, and Alfred Munson, high school principal, reported on the opening of schools.

Russell Pritchard, PTA president, said a picture of a Bible with chains around it which appeared in The Daily Record early last week "gave me the chills."

The picture was made by Roderick G. MacLeod, staff photographer, to dramatize the court ruling on the subject. The picture has drawn much favorable comment.

The text of the resolution, also adopted by the State PTA, is as follows:

WHEREAS: Pennsylvania has failed to provide the proper State support necessary to finance adequate public education for all of its children and youth, and

WHEREAS: Pennsylvania is taxing its citizens substantially less for public education than are many states of comparable or less wealth, and

WHEREAS: Pennsylvania is expending substantially less per public school pupil for education than are other states of comparable or less wealth, and

WHEREAS: Pennsylvania's state public school subsidies for instruction are distributed inequitably resulting in inadequate educational programs in hundreds of school districts in spite of high local tax efforts, and

WHEREAS: Pennsylvania's two largest school districts are prevented by state law from providing adequate local tax support for their schools, and

WHEREAS: Education of Pennsylvania's children and youth is a first responsibility of the Commonwealth guaranteed by its Constitution and endorsed in the hearts of its citizens, and

WHEREAS: H. B. 1108 is the fairest adequate school subsidy legislation before the General Assembly.

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED: That the Executive Committee of the Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers in official session in Harrisburg on September 12, 1959, urges each of the 550,000 members of the Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers and every other citizen to petition the Governor and the General Assembly.

1. Enact H. B. 1108 and to initiate and enact the necessary State Tax Program to finance its provisions, and

2. Provide the necessary local taxing power to the School Districts of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh to permit them to offer adequate public education for their children and youth, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That copies of this resolution be mailed to every unit of the Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers, to the Governor of the Commonwealth, to the members of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, and to the President and Secretary of the Pennsylvania State School Directors Association requesting them to advise the members of that Association of this Resolution.

Matamoras Man Dies After Fall

MILFORD — A 52-year-old man was fatally injured yesterday when he fell from a load of corn stalks and landed on his head.

Curtis Huffmaster of Delaware Drive, Matamoras, died in St. Francis Hospital, Port Jervis, N. Y., of a fractured skull.

State Police said Huffmaster was riding on top of a load of corn stalks in a truck driven by Bernard Swartwood, with whom Huffmaster makes his home.

Trooper Robert J. Smith, who investigated, said the truck was traveling slowly on the Milford-Matamoras road, old Route 6, when the load apparently shifted and Huffmaster fell to the highway.

Swartwood did not notice Huffmaster's absence until he reached home. The injured man was taken to the hospital in the Port Jervis Lions Club ambulance.

Korean Youth To Enter Michigan

ANOTHER chapter has been added to the life of Jon Richard Mannheim, who was born Jung Sung Ho in Kumbwa, North Korea, May 20, 1940.

He entered the University of Michigan this month as a chemical engineering student.

Jon is the adopted son of 30-year old Richard Mannheim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph E. Mannheim, 59 S. Green St., East Stroudsburg.

This story began Dec. 26, 1952, when Richard was sitting with his buddies before a tent in Korea. A scrawny little Korean orphan, presented himself and asked if they needed a house boy. Jon was 12 and being cared for by the sisters at the Catholic orphanage in Seoul.

Several of the soldiers, including Richard and a buddy named him Mike Pearsall, chipped in and sent Jon to night school classes. Then Pearsall was rotated back home before he could go through with plans to take Jon to the United States. Richard was left with the job of struggling with the red tape.

Fight Red Tape — After the East Stroudsburg soldier came home in September, 1953, he fought immigration authorities two and a half years in behalf of the Korean boy.

The 27-year-old vet finally decided he would have to adopt him as a 16-year-old son. Richard met Jon in New York and took him to Franklin, N. J. where he was teaching in the high school.

After three years there and one more at Catholic High School, Allentown, Jon was accepted by Michigan.

But not even a son was enough for the bachelor school teacher. Richard took instructions from the Catholic church and then converted himself from Protestantism to Jon's religion.

Richard is still teaching at Franklin High School—French, Spanish and German—and he is still a bachelor with a son who appears headed for a bright future.

Humane Unit Plans For Future Action

LAKEWOOD — At its recent meeting here at the Preston School, under the sponsorship of Basil T. Jessup and Al Vouaux, the Humane Society of Wayne County arranged to have its next meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 7, at 8 p.m.

The meeting will be at Greene-Dreher-Sterling Elementary School at Newfoundland, at which time Arthur Frey and Elmore Haag will be co-hosts to the meeting.

The business of the Lakewood meeting included the obtaining of new members, a presentation of the total activity of the society, and plans for the future.

Approval was made for the boarding of animals at the shelter in Hawley, at the standard prevailing rates for this area. This service will be of interest to those individuals who must at times be away from their homes for extended periods of time.

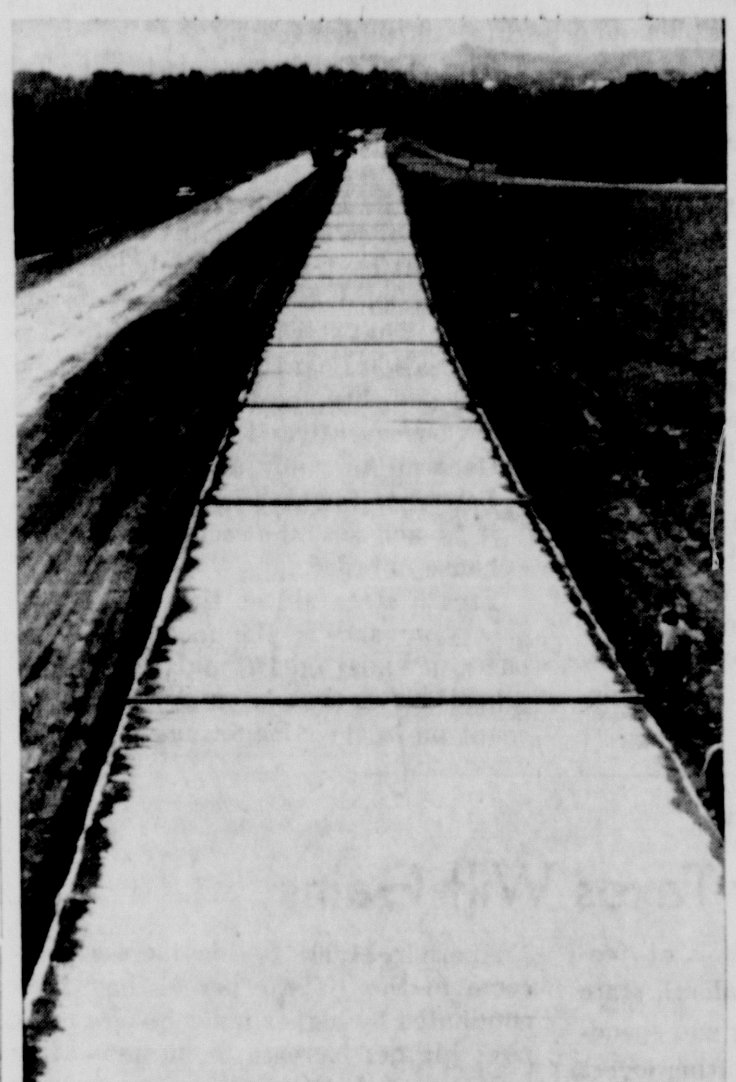

Committee Members — Vouaux and Ben Pudney were elected to the Executive Committee, representing Preston and Buckingham townships, respectively.

The Newfoundland meeting will be the second of a series of 15 meetings which will be held in every community of the county through the first year of the society's organization.

Teachers Protest Court Bible Ruling

WILKES-BARRE (AP) — A northeastern Pennsylvania teacher group has protested a Philadelphia federal court ruling declaring compulsory Bible reading in Pennsylvania's public schools unconstitutional.

The executive board of the Classroom Teachers Assn. adopted a motion at a meeting here Saturday. The vote for the motion was unanimous. The board represents 12 counties in the region.

The motion will be advanced as a resolution at the annual meeting of the northeastern district of the Pennsylvania State Education Assn., in Sunbury Oct. 9.

Local school administrators said that despite the court ruling, Bible reading will be continued until the State Department of Public Instruction issues a policy statement on the decision.

A section of the State Public School Act provides that 10 verses of the Bible are to be read without comment in classrooms each day.

The State Legislature is divided on how to relieve school districts of the financial difficulties facing them as the result of the State Tax Equalization Board's action slashing school subsidies to all counties but Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

The House seeks to reimburse school districts on a partial basis—75 percent during the 1960-61 school year, 50 percent the following year and 25 percent the third year.

On the other hand, the Senate has moved to freeze subsidy payments at their present levels by holding to the 1957 real estate market valuations on which the subsidies to the various school districts are based.

Under the Tax Equalization Board's plan, the payments would be based on 1958 realty values. These figures, the board said, have increased in all but the largest counties and therefore less state subsidies should be paid to the smaller counties.

How Taxes Wilt Gains

A Tax Foundation, Inc. look at ten-year (1949-59) trends of Federal, state and local government taxing and spending today illustrated their wilting effect on a typical white collar worker.

The July-August issue of the Foundation's Monthly Tax Features considering the case of a man now earning $7,500 a year (he earned $4,900 ten years ago) noted these facts:

Total direct taxes and some indirect excise taxes (not counting "hidden" taxes), take $1,770, or 24 per cent. of his $7,500 income as compared with $679, or 14 per cent. of his smaller income a decade ago;

A rough estimate of all taxes in 1959, hidden and direct, for the average $7,500 family is $2,600;

Inflation has knocked a big hole in his pay increases, i.e., $1,014 of the $2,600 increase in his pay ($4,900 to $7,500), has been wiped out by higher prices;

State Needs PIDA

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg — Is Pennsylvania destined to cut its own economic throat? Ailing communities throughout the state plagued by year in and year out with lack of adequate industries and persistent high unemployment (and there are pitifully few that do not fall in this category) can turn their eyes to Pennsylvania's Senate for the answer.

Right now in the hands of this august body of 50 elected gentlemen is a piece of top-flight legislation that holds the hopes of thousands of unemployed workers throughout the state.

It is the Administration's request for an appropriation of $10 million to the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority (PIDA) for the

Try and Stop Me—by Bennett Cerf

A flamboyant starlet was told that the bespectacled young man in the corner was worth ten million dollars on the hoof, so she was fawning on him in two shakes of a lamb's tail. Noting that his gaze was at her shockingly low cut dress, she pouted, "I told that disgraceful dressmaker of mine this dress was entirely too revealing, but it made no impression on her. Tomorrow she's going to raise it at least an eighth of an inch or know the reason why!"

The sheriff of a sleepy Southern town has held office now for forty-two consecutive years. His reason for not stepping down invariably silences hecklers and political adversaries. "I'm plumb afraid to quit," he explains. "How do we know that my successor wouldn't be even more corrupt than I am?"

A courtroom trick claimed as original by district attorneys in eight different states concerns the trial of a young man accused of murdering his sweetheart. Problem: her body was undiscovered, so the evidence was perforce circumstantial.

At a lonesome moment in the Legislators in the urban areas contend that the board has erred over the years and discriminated against the big cities. They now want the board to make another mistake by penalizing the rural school districts.

The Legislature created the Tax Equalization Board. Certainly it should be able to control what it brought into being.

This is no time for the big cities and rural areas to be set against each other in a fight over school reimbursements. Each school district should get its fair share. That's what the State Tax Equalization Board was supposed to do. It's clear it has not done the job.

Consequently, it behooves the General Assembly and Gov. David Lawrence to stop everything where it is and set the school subsidy house in order.

Freeze state aid at the level it was this year and in the meantime work out a new and fair formula which local school districts can understand and count on in their long-range planning.

Banner Year

George Sokolsky Says...

Two-Nation World

At Yalta, Stalin made it clear that just as he had formed an alliance with Hitler to divide the world between them, so he was ready for a two-nation control of the world; that is, by Soviet Russia and the United States. It was because of this attitude on the part of Stalin that Chiang Kai-shek and General de Gaulle were omitted from the Summit Conference at Yalta, where Stalin and Roosevelt did business behind the back of Winston Churchill, and as the record shows, at times, privately ridiculed him.

Khrushchev also thinks in terms of a two-nation world. After all, if the two major powers decided to dominate the world, what could the small countries do?

Could they unite to fight a combination of Soviet Russia and the United States? In fact, as one thinks about the two-nation world concept, it is reminiscent of the division of the United States into loyalty syndicates, governed out of Chicago by Al Capone. It is the concept of "unite and divide" instead of "divide and conquer."

Nikita Khrushchev, in reply to one of the questions asked of him at the National Press Club in Washington, listed a few of the nationalities in the Soviet Union and said that if he would list them all, it would consume much time.

In a word, Soviet Russia had solved the nationality problem for a good part of Europe and Asia by rejecting its existence as a fact. But that cannot be done as regards Nationalist or Red China; it cannot be done as regards India; it cannot be done as regards Great Britain or any Western European country.

Khrushchev's two-nation concept, while it might lessen the present tensions, would create new and greater tensions and could set the entire world in explosion. Instead of One Worldism, instead of a two-nation world, nationalism is on the march accompanied by a fragmentation of empires into smaller, nationalistic states.

Khrushchev exhibited a fear of this trend in his reference to Hungary at the National Press Club luncheon. He was asked a question about Hungary. He did not answer the question.

He said that if he wanted to be unpleasant, he could ask similar questions about the United States, but he had no intention of being unpleasant. He meandered all over the map but he did not answer the question about Soviet Russia's interference in the internal affairs of Hungary.

He did not answer it because in the Soviet theory of world organization such an entity as Hungary does not exist. What exists are the countries that are building Socialism and Communism, and the countries that choose to remain capitalist. The names of countries are geographical and have no realistic meaning from his standpoint.

Thus, Russia itself has become a provincial term; the vast state over which Khrushchev presides is the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. It would be as though France disappeared into a complex of NATO states and became a province of such an area.

Nevertheless, this is the current Russian point of view. For, if the entire world became Communist, according to Marxist-Leninist theory, nations, races, religions and even governments would wither away.

How deeply this is ingrained in Khrushchev's mentality became obvious from a curious change of pace during the National Press Club luncheon. Khrushchev delivered his address and answered questions in large chunks which his interpreter, Oleg Troyanovsky, handled very well.

But when, at the very end, Khrushchev lectured his audience on Marxist-Leninist theory on the rise and fall of various economic and social systems, Troyanovsky translated sentence by sentence.

Sometimes Khrushchev even stopped for him to translate a phrase or a word. Here was a party apparition lecturing on fundamentals, every word of which was weighed, because even he, Khrushchev, dared not, in a loose moment, utter an unorthodox phrase.

The United States will not and cannot accept the two-nation concept. In the first place, it cannot be American policy to dominate the world. Our people will never tolerate such a policy.

Secondly, we have too much respect for other nations to disregard their opinions, desires or needs. An understanding with Soviet Russia to lessen the tensions of the Cold War cannot in any way lessen our association with the nations who have been our allies and friends.

Old Friends Meet In California

Dr. Marshall Metzgar, of Stroudsburg, recently renewed old acquaintances with a former Stroudsburg newspaperman while visiting in California.

Dr. Metzgar visited with William Dutton, now a resident of the Calistoga, Calif., area, 50 miles north of San Francisco.

Dutton, a graduate of Stroudsburg High School in 1912, worked as a reporter for The Record for three years. He was also a good basketball player at Stroudsburg High School.

Dutton lives on a farm at the foot of Mount Helena, with his English born wife. Both are now authors and each expects to have a book published in about eight months.

The former Stroudsburg newspaperman lives on a farm featuring 55 different varieties of birds. He is reportedly in excellent health and asked about many of his friends in this area.

Dr. Metzgar also visited with Lawrence Cook, another Stroudsburg native, during his stay in California.

The Stroudsburg physician is now enroute home.

Pro, Con Of Bible Reading

John F. Hill, Editor

Dear Sir:

There is one thing I cannot understand. Why, after having had the Bible read in the schools all these years, do the teachers have to stop reading it to the children?

I will be 69 my next birthday and I am sure there are others who feel as I do that it is too bad it took all those years to find it is unconstitutional to read it now.

The judges say it interfered with the rights of the parents. I have been in homes that had no Bible. So how could they teach their children?

Maybe if we had a little more of the Lord's Prayer we would not have the troubles we do with some of our young people.

Bible reading and recitation of the Lord's Prayer should be allowed in our schools.

MURIEL HUGHES
351 Main St.,
Stroudsburg, Pa.

I must write and tell you how shocked I am (for I am one of His followers) to learn of shutting the Bible out of schools.

I know I am not alone, but from the depth of my heart I believe that as time goes on and children hear the Word that they in turn will become better citizens (for many do not even attend a church or Sunday school to hear the Word).

I do earnestly, and with prayers in my heart, urge every person to pray without ceasing, that not only should the Bible be read in school, but that our younger generation be taught to read the Bible at home, with mother, father and family.

Even now, when the world itself is crying for peace, what better way can we teach our children but by reading His word every day in school?

May God be patient with us and forgive our mistakes, for we live in a great country given to our forefathers by God Himself, who heard the prayers of those who were persecuted for His sake.

WILLIAM VOGLER
56 Lenox Ave.,
E. Stroudsburg, Pa.

Dear Sir:

"... under a Constitution which ordained 'this nation, under God'". These words are quoted from Bobby Westbrook's column of today.

Mrs. Westbrook should know that this phrase does not come from the Constitution of the United States, and that in fact that noble document contains not one single mention of the word "God".

The Ministerium is more careful. It does not quote the Constitution, but contents itself with referring to "under God" as appearing in the revised Pledge of Allegiance.

The recent appearance of this phrase in the Pledge, however, is of questionable validity, and perhaps awaits only a person or group as courageous as the family which challenged the Pennsylvania act to reach the end of its existence.

The Ministerium also says, "Fundamentally (the Constitution) assures the well being of the majority of our citizens by our elective processes."

This is quite true, but it has no bearing on the issue. The Constitution also guarantees that in matters of religion no minority, however small, shall be oppressed by a majority, however large. All people, whether Buddhists or Taoists or of some religion of which we have never heard, or even of no religion at all, are entitled to this same protection.

There are many things which children must learn which are not taught in school, but rather at home or in some other place. Religion is one of these.

Let us not confuse "Keep religion out of our schools" with "Keep religion out of our lives." The decision of the Federal Court is sound, and should be carried out forthwith.

Just Between Us—

—By Bobby Westbrook

A childhood friend used to amuse herself by classifying all her friends as the animals they reminded her of. I can't remember what I was, probably a sheep-dog because that was the period when we wore our hair down over our eyes and I never combed mine.

Today, I'm afraid, I'm more like a pack-rat, tucking away an odd assortment of articles, not with a view to any particular future use but merely because I have them. This is distressing enough in house-keeping but it's even more so when your mind is as cluttered as your bureau drawers.

If they were neatly pigeon-holed, they might be of some use, but not when you've got to rummage through a whole mess of unrelated items.

But they are appealing at the time. Like the one I collected from Dr. Appel's talk at the DAR yesterday: "The Star-Spangled Banner" Francois Scott Key wrote about had 15 stars and 15 stripes.

Or the observation that not all the women who bewail club luncheons as too fattening are pleased when they are served an entirely non-fattening one. Happily prepared to go off their diet with a perfectly good excuse, the look on their faces when the handsome fruit salad with cottage cheese and sherbet appeared was something to study.

But it was a pleasant luncheon, and always gives you a chance to preview the new Fall hats which are mighty becoming this year.

The new wool dresses are handsome, too — but the unexpected change in temperature threatened a lot of their wearers with prickly heat. Now we won't know what to wear when, whether to freeze in faded Summer cottons or bake in our pride in new Fall wools.

I know which I think will do. What's your bet?

DAR Protests Court Ruling On School Bible Reading At Constitution Luncheon

The executive board of the Jacob Stroud Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, yesterday went on record as protesting the recent court decision declaring the reading of the Bible in the public schools as unconstitutional.

The action by the board came at a special meeting which followed the annual Constitutional Day luncheon held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel when Dr. John C. Appel spoke on the Flag and the Constitution of the United States. Dr. Appel is president of the Monroe County Historical Society and head of the history department at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Both our flag and our Constitution have proved flexible enough to meet changing conditions and to endure for more than 170 years, he pointed out. Dr. Appel also pointed to other points of similarity between the two symbols of the nation:

(1) The Constitution, signed September 17, 1787, maintained a federation of sovereign states; reserving rights to those states and providing for local legislation closer to the electorate.

The flag, adopted in 1777, also symbolized federalism with 13 stripes for the red field of the British flag and 13 stars for the Union Jack, each standing for one of the 13 colonies.

(2) The Constitution established a republic, system of representative government. The republican form of government was implicit in the flag in that each of the 13 colonies had already representative government. With the expansion of enfranchisement to include both sexes and all races, the Constitution has come also to represent the nearest form of democracy.

(3) The Constitution safeguards the right of the individual, particularly in the thirteenth amendments, which were promised even before the Constitution was signed.

(4) Both flag and Constitution are flexible enough to meet changing conditions. In addition to the 22 amendments to the Constitution, it has been changed over the years by Supreme Court interpretations; by Congressional implementation; and by popular usage, such as the establishment of political parties.

The flag was changed with the admission of Vermont and Kentucky to include 15 stars and 15 stripes. With the admission of still more states, the flag was returned to 13 stripes with new stars added for new states. With the admission of Hawaii, the flag will contain 50 stars.

Mrs. William Ernest Andrew, new regent, presided at the meeting, and introduced as guests Mrs. R. K. McLaughlin, Mrs. Edwin Oetzel, Miss Grace Depue, Miss Mary Flagler, Roy Houser and Mrs. Joseph Flagler.

She also announced a rummage sale to be held October 1 and 2 at 314 Main St., East Stroudsburg where Russell Feller in charge. Articles may be left at the store or Mrs. Feller will arrange for collection.

Members of the executive board in addition to Mrs. Andrew, include Mrs. Dale Learn, first vice regent; Mrs. A. A. Holbrook, second vice regent; Mrs. Horace Fellecker, chaplain; Mrs. Joseph Yutz, recording secretary; Mrs. Allen Zahorick, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robert A. Bixler Jr., treasurer; Mrs. Arlington Williams, registrar; Mrs. George Marsh Historian; Mrs. W. R. Erickson, librarian; Mrs. Randall Roberts, curator.

Serving as hostesses yesterday were Mrs. A. A. Holbrook, Mrs. L. V. Rundle, and Miss Lulu Shafer.

National's 'Have-Nots' Ready To Give Top Clubs Trouble

By Jack Hand
Associated Press Sports Writer

The have-nots of the National League are digging in for a last ditch stand against the three pennant contenders and Cleveland still bars the door to stumbling Chicago in the American League.

Milwaukee had a chance to move into a first place tie with Los Angeles Monday night if they could take the measure of Pittsburgh at Forbes Field. It was the only game of the day involving the contenders.

Manager Danny Murtaugh of the Pirates had his first line pitchers—Harvey Haddix (12-11) and Ronnie Kline (10-13)—lined up behind Bob Friend to face the Braves in the three-game series. He also planned to call on 18-game winner Vern Law in relief if necessary.

Must Fight

"The Braves will have to fight for anything they get," said Murtaugh. "I don't care who wins. All that we are interested in is that the best team wins and we're going to do everything we can to make Milwaukee earn the pennant if the Braves are going to win."

Fred Haney, whose Braves have been moving up fast in a September drive, had either Juan Pizarro (5-2) or Bob Rush (5-5) ready for Tuesday's night game after throwing Warren Spahn at the Pirates in the series opener. The same teams will finish their season series with another night game Wednesday when Kline will face an unnamed Milwaukee pitcher.

Both Los Angeles and San Francisco had Monday off. They resume Tuesday with the Dodgers operating at night in St. Louis with Danny McDevitt (10-8) or Sandy Koufax (8-6) opposing Larry Jackson (13-13). For their final meeting Wednesday night it probably will be Roger Craig (9-5), winner of the Saturday afternoon game over the Giants against young Bob Miller (4-2).

Scraps Kiddie Korps

With the Dodgers coming in for two games and the San Francisco Giants due for three games Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Manager Solly Hemus of St. Louis is scrapping his Kiddie Korps. "We're not giving anybody anything," said the determined Hemus.

The Giants have day games in Chicago on Tuesday and Wednesday before they head for St. Louis. In the opener it will be Jack Sanford (15-12) against Joe Drabowsky (5-10). The pitchers aren't set for the Wednesday game.

Help Braves

The quirk of the schedule will find the Cubs and Cardinals both trying their best to help the Braves in the final week while the Pirates and Philadelphia, who wind up with three in Milwaukee, bear down to lend a hand to the Dodgers and Giants.

"Pittsburgh can help us," said Gil Hodges, veteran Dodger first baseman, before the club left San Francisco.

"If Pittsburgh can give us a hand we'll catch them," said Hobie Landrith, Giant catcher.

"We don't care what the Giants and Dodgers do as long as we just keep on winning," said Manager Haney of the Braves.

AL Not Settled

The American League race, supposedly settled a week ago when Cleveland lost a doubleheader to the New York Yankees, still is alive. The Indians, hanging by their finger tips, can force the White Sox to go right down to the wire if they can beat Chicago Tuesday night in Cleveland.

Bookie Jim Perry (12-9) will oppose Chicago's veteran Early Wynn (20-10) in this dramatic final meeting of the two clubs that fought all season for the championship.

A White Sox victory would clinch the pennant. If they lose they will have to depend on a combination of two victories or Cleveland defeats later in the week. Chicago ends its season with three games in Detroit, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Cleveland is at home to Kansas City for a two-night doubleheader Friday and single games Saturday and Sunday.

Barring a tie or ties, the World Series is due to get under way Wednesday, Sept. 30 in the home park of the American League winner, presumably Comiskey Park in Chicago.

If Milwaukee wins the National they will play every day without a break. If Los Angeles or San Francisco wins, there will be a one-day travel break after two games in the American League park before the series resumes Saturday.

Milwaukee Charges Into First Place Tie; Wins 8-6

By Jack Hand
Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Milwaukee charged into a first place tie with idle Los Angeles in the wild National League race Monday night as 38-year-old Warren Spahn won his 20th game, beating Pittsburgh 8-6 on Eddie Mathews' two home runs that drove in five runs.

The important game was enlivened by some fist-cuffs in the fourth inning. Spahn tied old Eppa Rixey's record of 266 victories, the most ever won by a left-hander in National League history as he hit the 20-mark for the 10th time, another record. When he wilted in the ninth, Don McMahon ended it after a Pirate rally netted three runs.

The big blow for the Braves was Mathews' 42nd homer with two men on and the score tied in the fifth, a long drive that bounced on the roof of the right field stands and sailed out of the park. It was only the sixth ball ever hit on the roof, which is 90 feet high and 300 feet from the plate near the foul line where the ball hit. Other men to hit the roof were Babe Ruth, Ted Beard, Mickey Rentle, Wally Moon and Bob Skinner.

It was the first time the Braves had been in first place since Aug. 4 when they enjoyed a brief stay on top of the heap. They have won 12 of their last 15 in a furious stretch drive. The Dodgers, Braves and the idle San Francisco Giants, one game back, each has five to play.

The Braves continue their night series in Pittsburgh Tuesday and Wednesday while Los Angeles plays night games in St. Louis and San Francisco plays two day games in Chicago. When the Dodgers and Giants shift partners for their final three games, the Braves will be home playing their last three against Philadelphia.

Temper flared in the fourth inning of Tuesday night's game, so vital to the Braves. Shortstop Felix Mantilla of Milwaukee and first baseman Dick Stuart of Pittsburgh squared off and tossed a few punches before their mates could pry them apart. Another scuffle between Mantilla and Coach Sam Narmon of the Pirates followed before calm was restored.

Conley Signs Contracts For Two Sports

BOSTON (AP)—Versatile Gene Conley Monday signed professional baseball and basketball contracts in rapid-fire succession.

The 6-foot-8 right-handed pitcher said he came to terms with Philadelphia Phillies' General Manager John Quinn shortly before dawn.

At noon, Conley signed for another season with the defending world champion Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Assn.

Though the salary was not disclosed in either case, it is expected the former Washington State athlete who resides in Milwaukee received raises from both clubs.

The Phillies' contract specifies that Conley can play basketball.

Gene was traded by the Milwaukee Braves this spring after a disagreement over his basketball playing.

Dudas Victor In PGA Match

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Stan Dudas of North Hills Country Club recovered from a bad start and went on to a two-under-par 33-35—68 victory in the qualifying round of the Philadelphia PGA championship tournament Monday.

It was Dudas' second straight medalist victory in the tournament. He won at his home club last year with an identical score. There was a seven-man tie for fourth place. One of the seven was John Serafini, Scranton, with a 37-36—73. Two other qualifiers were Bob Ross, Hazleton, 38-41—79, and John Sullivan, Lewistown, 43-48—81.

Cunningham Fights To Beat Aaron

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Cunningham of St. Louis, battling for the past month to overtake National League batting leader Hank Aaron, will be hard pressed to achieve this purpose in the final week of the regular season.

Trailing Aaron by nine points through Sunday's games, Cunningham will have to face some of the circuit's top pitchers as Los Angeles and San Francisco invade St. Louis for pivotal games in the pennant race. Don Drysdale of the Dodgers and Sam Jones and Johnny Antonelli of the Giants probably will oppose the Cards.

Cunningham gained one point on Aaron in last week's games. Cunningham collected five hits in 14 at bats and his average remained at .348. The Milwaukee star had nine safeties in 27 trips and his mark dropped one point to .357. Orlando Cepeda of San Francisco is a distant third at .318.

In the American League, Detroit's Harvey Kuenn has virtually clinched the championship. He climbed six points to .356 while teammate Al Kaline, in second place, fell one to .325.

Tito Francona of Cleveland is hitting .364 after 300 official times at bat. He will, however, be ineligible for the title with fewer than 477 total appearances, including bases on balls, sacrifices and hit by pitches.

East-Burg Juniors Win 12-0

EAST STROUDSBURG High School's Junior Varsity blanked Hometown yesterday at the East-burg stadium by a 12-0 score.

The two scores came in the second and third quarters. Quarterback Bob Smith went over for the first six points when he bootlegged the ball from 25 yards out. The second score was made by Dave Harman on a 15-yard carry.

Statistically, East Stroudsburg had six first downs to Hometown's three. While in the passing department, East Stroudsburg tried four, made one and gained 20 yards. They did intercept a Hometown pass, however, while Hometown tried four others and completed three of them for 55 yards.

Louisiana State Gets AP Top Rank In Football Poll

By Will Grimsley
Associated Press Sports Writer

Louisiana State started the 1959 college football season where it left off last year—as No. 1 in The Associated Press poll.

While most pre-season favorites waited at the gate for opening this week, LSU's colorful Go-Go Guys and Chinese Bandits shook off a first-half lethargy and rolled to a 23-3 victory over Rice.

This was enough to convince the nation's sports writers and broadcasters that the Bayou Tigers, unbeaten and untied champions of 1958, deserved to stay at the head of the parade.

The Tigers received 64 of the 96 first place votes cast Monday in the first regular season balloting for 1,105 points, more than double that of runnerup Oklahoma.

Oklahoma, which makes its debut against Northwestern Saturday, got 12 first place votes and 505 points. Then came Auburn, also idle, and Mississippi, 16-0 victor over Houston, third and fourth.

Robinson Signs For Title Defense In Boston, Dec. 14

BOSTON (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson Monday signed a contract to defend his version of the world middleweight title Dec. 14 in Boston against Paul Pender.

Pender, of Brookline, Mass., is ninth ranked in the latest National Boxing Association's ratings.

Robinson, stripped of his title by the NBA because of inactivity, is recognized as the world champion only in New York and Massachusetts.

Promoter Sam Silverman said Robinson signed for 42½ per cent guarantee of the live gate at the Boston Garden, and 75 per cent of auxiliary money, including television rights.

The television contract has not yet been given.

Robinson, 39, has not fought since March 25, 1958 when he won back his title from Carmen Basilio in Chicago. Since then most of his action has been confined to appearances before the NBA and the New York Boxing Commission.

The NBA announced the winner of the Basilio-Gene Fullmer fight would be the champion. Fullmer won it.

Robinson has signed for a 10-round non-title bout with Willie Greaves, an unranked Pittsburgh fighter, in New York Nov. 13.

George Preston Marshall, the Tribal chief, introduced it in the form 36 - 23 - 36 of Miss Joan Adams.

Miss Adams, an auburn-haired creature, will serve as publicity aide to General Manager Dick McCann 36-43-36. This means she will beautify luncheons, TV shows and similar occasions where people may suddenly find they want to buy Redskin tickets after all.

NOW... '60 CHEVROLET TRUCKS

WITH REVOLUTIONARY TORSION-SPRING SUSPENSION THAT GIVES ASTONISHING NEW SHOCKPROOF ACTION !!!!!

Chevy's done the next best thing to paving every road in America!
First they threw out the front axle and put in torsion-spring independent suspension. Then they built coil rear springs into most light-duty models, variable-rate leaf springs into heavies. That made it a ride you have to feel to believe. A ride that lets you move faster to get more work done in a day.

Brawnier bulldozer build!
They're tougher than any Chevy trucks ever made. Frames are stronger, cabs 67% more rigid. Front wheels and tires are precision-balanced. And that new suspension cushions jars and road shock that used to spell slow death for sheet metal.

More comfortable cabs!
Easier to hop in and out of too. Many models are a whole 7 inches lower outside. Yet there's more head room inside, plus more width for shoulders and hips.

Big in the power department!
With the industry's most advanced gas-saving 6's. With high-torque Workmaster V8 performance in heavyweights. With new 6-cylinder or V8 power available in new LCF models.

More models than ever!
New 4-wheel-drive models, tandems and high-styled Suburban Carryalls. It's the handsomest, hardest Chevy fleet ever to report for duty. See your dealer for the whole story, and be sure to take a ride! It's something!

Anything less is an old-fashioned truck!

SOUTH'S CANNON-BALL - By Alan Mauer

BUCK HILL FALLS INN can well call itself the "Lawn Bowling Capital of the United States" now that it has been announced by Cliff Gilliam that the National Singles Lawn Bowling Championships will be held on the picturesque Buck Hill greens next September.

The sponsoring of the singles classic, plus the doubles tournament by Buck Hill assures the Pocono Mountain resort of the world-renowned title.

Starting Sept. 7 the U. S. Singles Championships will take place and will be followed by the country-wide Doubles Tournament and later the Buck Hill Open Tournament.

Gilliam, general manager and vice-president, has left no stone unturned to make sure Buck Hill has the best in lawn bowling competition coming to these parts in years to come.

According to the bowlers themselves the set up at Buck Hill is ideal with its great greens (none are better in the fifty states, one expert said) plus the Inn can accommodate the large field which turns out for such events.

The Doubles Championship held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Buck Hill, drew large galleries each day. While the Buck Hill Open, now in progress, had its biggest entry list since its start.

Next year, like one old-timer pointed out, it will be bigger and better than ever.

Talking about oldsters, it was great to be in on the wonderful exhibition put on by Tom Stead, a 53-year-old "youngster" from Oakland, Calif. The erect, sharp-witted former Bank of America executive, showed the so-called "youth movement" some tricks of the trade only experience can beat out.

An there was no one at Buck Hill with more savvy of the bowling sport than Stead. He made the eyes of the onlookers pop out with his continual draws against the opposition. Constantly the West Coast player drew applause from the folks who took in the Doubles Championship.

Amazing more, it seems, was that Stead and his partner, Bill Davidson, also of Oakland, shot through three straight victories before losing their only contest to champions Jim Cantelet and Bob Smart.

You don't play one of these lawn bowling games in an hour. It usually takes two to three hours to complete a match. But at the end of four hotly contested matches—one Friday afternoon, two Saturday and one Sunday—Stead was just as fresh and lively as the other participants who were much younger in age.

Another interesting figure at the three-day classic was Harold Esch, of Orlando, Fla. The bespectacled young business executive is a former publicity director of the Milwaukee Brewers before the now Braves were in the American Baseball Association.

The Brewers were then owned by Bill Veck when Esch was tub-thumping for them. An the manager was none other than Charles Dillon (Casey) Stengel.

Each, now 39, is president of the American Lawn Bowling Association. Presently he is striving, along with Col. Eddie Eagan, to promote the sport on an international championship scale.

Bill Hay, discoverer of Amos 'N Andy, was his usual first-class self as he announced all of the games. Hay, the speller who broadcast the long count in the Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey heavyweight championship bout from Chicago, kept the assembled bowlers and their fans abreast of the game beside tossing in witty remarks which made the time go faster.

Bill, a resident of Los Angeles (Beverly Hills to be exact), also is known as the man who aired Red Grange's first game when the famous Galloping Ghost joined the Chicago Bears in the National Football League in the middle twenties.

Detroit Tigers Rehire Jimmy Dykes Yesterday To Solve Their Problems

By Dave Diles
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers solved part of the major league managerial riddle Monday by rehiring Jimmie Dykes for 1960.

The popular, cigar-chewing veteran got a one-year contract at a reported $30,000, and a chance to do what other managers in recent seasons have failed to do—lift the treadmilling Tigers into a contending position in the American League.

"Jimmie has done a tremendous job," said General Manager Rick Ferrell. "He deserves an opportunity to build his team from spring training."

Dykes, almost 63, accomplished an amazing revival with the Tigers early this season. He was coaching third base for the Pittsburgh Pirates the day the Tigers lost for the 15th time in 17 starts.

Ferrell promptly fired Bill Norman, who had managed the club less than a year, and summoned Dykes. Dykes promptly got the Tigers into an amazing hot streak, lifted them from last place into second, just one-half game out of the lead.

But the streak didn't last and the Tigers sagged back around the .500 mark, and have been there since.

Detroit currently is in fourth place, two games behind New York and two ahead of Baltimore. Dykes' rehiring ended mild speculation that Joe Gordon, who quit as manager of the Cleveland Indians a few days ago would become the Detroit manager.

There also was talk that Leo Durocher, who quit his television network job last week might be headed for Detroit to buy into the club and become its field manager.

Archers Plan Business Meeting

THE POCONO Archery Association will hold its regular monthly business meeting today, starting at 7:30 p.m. The field range club house will be the meeting place.

Final plans will be formulated for the Annual Club Championship Shoot, which is scheduled for Oct. 4. This event is open to all members of the club. Trophies and medals will be awarded to the top three in every class, and the club champion's trophy will be presented to the top scorer of all classes.

The club has erected special targets for broadhead shooting, and are being used for preliminary "conditioning" for the October hunt. Many of the club members will soon take to the hunting field, and the required marksmanship will be a prime requisite.

Members interested in attending the demonstration of shooting skill by the world famous Howard Hill, can arrange for reservations at this meeting. Hill will be appearing and demonstrating in a program of the Emmaus Centennial, Saturday, Sept. 26, at the new Emmaus High School Stadium.

The membership is advised to come out early and join the intra-club competition which takes place before the scheduled business meeting time.

Stamp Club Sets Date For Meeting

THE NEXT meeting of the Monroe Philatelic Society will be held at Ray Patton's house on Franklin Hill, East Stroudsburg, Sunday, Oct. 4, at 2:30 p.m.

It was decided to once again meet on Sunday as most of the week nights are crowded with other activities, and also the election of officers was tabled until this meeting.

Membership Questions

The questions of membership dues; sponsored separate Junior Division; a possible exhibit early in the next year, and other activities were discussed and asked to be given thought until this meeting.

The club will welcome all stamp collectors who wish to become members.

Police Set Record

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Fifteen Philadelphia police officers have been arrested in the city this year. The figure is the highest ever in the department's history.

Commission To Check Area Bridge

MONROE County commissioners told Polk Township Supervisor James D. Berger they will check the condition of the "Gregory Bridge" 1.8 miles west of Kresgeville.

Berger said debris catches under the bridge and dams the water in Pohopoco Creek so that it overflows on Township Route 425.

Next On List

The bridge is next on the county's list for reconstruction, Commissioner Willard Quick said.

He told Berger the board will make a tour of all the county's bridges next Monday.

Sailor At Home With Family

BARTONSVILLE — Roger Smith, of the United States Navy, arrived here last Tuesday morning to spend a 15 day leave with his wife and family who are residing with the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bunting, Sr., during Smith's tour of duty.

Smith had been on sea duty since January.

On the day prior to his arrival home, Mr. and Mrs. Smith became the parents of their second child, a six pound 12 ounce son, born at the Monroe County General Hospital, East Stroudsburg. The baby has been named Stephen Mark.

The Smiths have a sixteen month old daughter, Darlene. Prior to her marriage Mrs. Smith was an office employee of the Daily Record.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Congress Releases List Of Official Legislation Programs

The House Sept. 2 tried, but failed by one vote, to override it. Congress Sept. 8 passed and sent him a revised version which differed from the original only in providing an across-the-board cut of 2½ percent in all funds. The President vetoed HR 9105 Sept. 9. The House overrode the veto 280-121, 12 votes more than the required two-thirds, and the Senate overrode 72-23, eight votes more than the required number. The bill appropriated a total of $1,176,579,834 for public works projects.

Railroad Retirement — Congress April 29 cleared and the President signed a bill (S 228) increasing railroad retirement benefits by 10 percent and raising employer and employee taxes from 6.25 to 7.25 percent.

Reserve Requirements — The House July 14 and the Senate July 15 agreed to a conference report on a bill (S 1120) to ease the reserve requirements on banks that are members of the Federal Reserve System. The bill authorized the Federal Reserve Board both to permit member banks to count their vault cash (cash on hand) in meeting their reserve requirements and to eliminate the central reserve city classification currently applied to 32 New York and Chicago banks. The principal effect of the bill was to help the credit position of small, country banks which keep considerable cash on hand. The President signed it into law (PL 114) July 28.

School Milk — The President Aug. 18 signed into law a bill (S 1289—PL 163) to increase from $75 million to $81 million in fiscal 1960, and to $84 million in fiscal 1961, the maximum amount authorized for the special school milk program. The increase was prompted by the expected rise in school enrollment.

TVA Revenue Bonds — President Eisenhower Aug. 6 signed into law a measure (HR 3460—PL 137) giving the Tennessee Valley Authority permission to sell revenue bonds on the private market to expand its power facilities. The new law enables TVA to add 2,000 square miles of service area to its territory and to issue up to $750 million in revenue bonds to get money for new steam plants. The territorial restriction was the major concession to private power companies who wanted assurance that TVA would be contained.

Veterans' Pensions — Congress enacted a highly complex measure known as the Veterans' Pension Act of 1959 (HR 7650). The bill contained a new sliding-scale principle relating pension payments to the need; a "widows' equalization" provision by which the survivors of World War II and Korean veterans would enjoy the same benefits accorded the widows and children of World War I veterans. By tying all future pensions to the actual needs of veterans, the new formula was expected to reduce the Government's payments to veterans by $12 billion by the end of the 20th century. The saying was more than offset by the cost of adding widows and children of World War II and Korean veterans to the pension rolls; about 205,000 would become eligible the day the Act goes into effect. This provision was expected to cost the Government $22 billion by the year 2000. Although President Eisenhower requested legislation implementing a sliding-scale formula for pensions, the final version of HR 7650 went much farther than an Administration-backed bill (HR 6432).

World Bank Monetary Fund — President Eisenhower June 17 signed a bill (S 1094—PL 48) increasing U. S. participation in the International Monetary Fund by $1,375,000,000 and in the World Bank by $3,175,000,000.

Rural Electrification — The House April 30 sustained President Eisenhower's veto of a bill (S 144) to modify reorganization plans of 1939 and 1953 to give the Administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration, rather than the Secretary of Agriculture, final authority to approve or disapprove REA loans.

Senate Rules Change — Liberals were defeated in the opening days for the 1959 session in their efforts to make substantial changes in the Senate's filibuster rule (Rule 22). Instead, a bipartisan leadership group pushed through a slight revision of the rule which the Southern bloc opposed but did not really fight. The revision, which was sponsored by Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D Texas) and Minority Leader Everett Dirksen (R Ill.), enabled two-thirds of the Senators voting (instead of two-thirds of the entire Senate membership) to shut off debate.

Surplus Disposal — Congress Sept. 11 adopted the conference report and sent to the President a compromise bill (HR 8609) extending for two years PL 480, the law under which surplus farm commodities are moved abroad. The measure provided additional authorizations of $1.5 billion per year for Title I sales for foreign currency and $300 million per year for Title II foreign relief donations.

No Action — Depletion Allowances — After five days of hearings in March, the House Ways and Means Committee pigeonholed a request to tighten tax laws regulating the percentage depletion tax deductions claimed by mineral producers. Committee members said privately that the issue was dead for the session and possibly for good.

Item Veto — President Eisenhower Jan. 19 asked Congress to enact a bill permitting him an item veto in both appropriation and authorization bills. No action was taken on the request.

Postal Rate Increase — No action was taken on President Eisenhower's budget request for an increase in postal rates. Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield May 7 wrote House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D Texas) proposing a rate increase to five cents on first class letters and 8 cents on air mail letters. He said the higher rates would bring in an additional $355 million in revenue annually.

Special School Aid — No action was taken on the Administration request (HR 7140) to reduce Federal aid to impacted school districts—areas where there are heavy concentrations of Government activities. Five of the six members of the House Education and Labor General Education Subcommittee voted to reject the measure Aug. 6. Chairman Cleveland M. Bailey (D W. Va.) said the Subcommittee would study the problem again in 1960.

60-Year Tour Of Duty

LONDON (AP) — The 42nd company of the Royal Army Service Corps has come home. It was sent abroad in 1899 for service in the South African war. But the War Office says that 60-year tour of duty isn't as bad as it might sound.

Industrial Increase
BELGRADE (AP) — Yugoslavia reports its industrial production increased 12 percent in the first eight months of this year compared with the same period in 1958.

100th Teachers Meeting On Friday

PENNSYLVANIA'S Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. Charles H. Boehm, will be the main speaker at the 100th Teachers Meeting for Monroe County school faculty members at the J. M. Hill Junior High School, East Stroudsburg, Friday.

Herbert P. Lauterbach, assistant executive secretary of the Pennsylvania State Education Assn., will lead teacher in-training discussions on both the elementary and secondary levels.

Former Illinois Congressman Calvin Dean Johnson will deliver an address at the end of the day-long conference. School books will be on exhibit.

Monroe County Superintendent of Schools John C. Litts will welcome the teachers. Dr. Hummel Fishburn, professor of music at Pennsylvania State University, will lead two community sings. Assisting him will be Frank Gullo, associate professor of music at Penn State University.

The schedule includes registration and distribution of directories from 8:45 to 9:15 a.m.; devotions by Rev. Harold C. Eaton, pastor of East Stroudsburg Methodist Church, and a welcome by John C. Litts, county superintendent of schools from 9:15 to 9:30; an address by Dr. Charles H. Boehm, superintendent of public instruction from 9:30 to 10:20, and a community sing conducted by Dr. Hummel Fishburn, professor of music, Pennsylvania State University, and Frank Gullo, associate professor at Penn State, from 10:20 to 10:50.

Elementary teachers will hear a talk by Herbert P. Lauterbach, assistant executive secretary of Pennsylvania State Education Assn., from 10:50 to 11:45, while secondary teachers visit the book exhibit. Lunch will be served between 11:45 a.m. and 1:15 p.m.

From 1:15 to 2:10 p.m., secondary teachers will hear Lauterbach, while elementary teachers tour the book exhibit. A community sing from 2:10 to 2:45, under the direction of Fishburn and Gullo, will be followed by a talk by Calvin Dean Johnson, former Illinois congressman, from 2:45 to 3:35 p.m.

Johnson will also speak at the Monroe County School directors convention at 8 p.m. in Monroe County Courthouse.

John Hertz, associate executive secretary of the Pennsylvania State School Directors Assn., will also speak at the directors meeting.

Hertz was a teacher and supervising principal in Potter County after securing a bachelor's degree from Mansfield State Teachers College, a master's degree from Duke University and doing other graduate work at Pennsylvania State University.

He headed the special aid to distressed school districts department of the Department of Public Instruction and also served as director of the DPI's school business bureau until his resignation to accept his present post.

Robert C. Friley, president of the county board, will preside at the meeting. Harry J. Drennan, secretary, will read the minutes of the last meeting and Litts will welcome the delegates. Devotions will be by Rev. Norman R. Savage, pastor of East Stroudsburg Baptist Church.

Stroudsburg Resident Dies At Home

BENJAMIN Stocum, 86, of 204 Park Ave., Stroudsburg, died yesterday morning in the home which he built several years ago. A retired bricklayer, he had been ill for six weeks.

He was born in Plymouth, Pa., the son of the late J. Wesley and Rebecca Stocum, and was a member of Stroudsburg Methodist Church and a life member of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers Union, Washington, D. C.

Survivors are a sister, Mrs. Eva Hartman, Stroudsburg, and nieces and nephews.

"RIPE AGE GIVES TONE TO VIOLINS, WINE AND GOOD FELLOWS"

The odds are that almost everyone living today is going to live a longer life than was expected at birth. Extra years are being added because of greater medical knowledge and better medicines. How long you are going to live and how well you are going to enjoy those added years depends greatly on yourself.

You can grow older happily if you take proper care of yourself and help your body overcome some of its enemies. Your physician can prescribe potent vitamins for additional energy, hormones when needed and medicines that can help your heart and other organs to resist aging. Regular visits to your physician and following his advice will give a mellow tone to your later years.

YOUR PHYSICIAN CAN PHONE HAMILTON 1-8930 WHEN YOU NEED A MEDICINE Pick up your prescription if shopping near us or let us deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with the responsibility of filling their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Conservation Office To Try New Method

THE County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office will try a new method this year for obtaining information from farmers planting wheat for harvest in 1960.

County ASC Committee Chairman David H. Griffith announced the office will mail return postcards to all farmers included in the survey. The new method is part of the over-all effort to reduce the expenses of administering the requirements of the Wheat Allotment and Marketing Quota program.

Direct Contact

Until this year community ASC committees made direct contact with farmers. The information requested on the postal card, required by law, will help the county ASC committee determine wheat acreage for the 1960 wheat crop.
